

Patrice Brodeur: A Short Biography

Holder of a Canada Research Chair on Islam, Pluralism, and Globalisation at the Faculty of Theology and the Sciences of Religions at the University of Montreal (Canada) since 2005, Brodeur investigates the dynamics of power and multiple identities within intercultural, interreligious, and interworldview dialogues. He studied at McGill University (BA, MA), Harvard University (AM, Ph.D.), Hebrew University of Jerusalem (2 years), University of Jordan (1 year), and spent a sabbatical year at the Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies as a Rockefeller Foundation Visiting Fellow at Notre-Dame University in 2004-2005.