

GERALD FISHER

E-mail: fisher82@earthlink.net

Fisher has been a volunteer counselor at SCORE N.Y.C., which is a not-for-profit organization and a resource partner of the U. S. Small Business Administration. He has experience screening applicants who seek to start a new business or grow an existing one including thorough analysis and recommendations of their business plans and financial plans. His industry areas of expertise include manufacturing, wholesale, retail, E commerce, patents and not-for profits.

During his time at SCORE, Fisher was responsible for bringing in MBA students as clients from Schools like Columbia Business School, NYU Stern School of Business and Fordham University. He was also responsible for opening SCORE branches at the JCC Manhattan and Fordham University.

2006-2008	Coordinator of the AARP Money Management Program at the Carter Burden Center for the Aging
2003 – 2006	A volunteer counselor with SCORE part of the S.B.A
1993 – 2000	Energy Recycling Corp./New York, New York Designers of a patented modification to existing heating systems in factories President, responsible for all phases of the business The marketing rights have been sold
Prior – 1993	Arch Bilt Container Corp./New York, New York. President and C.E.O. responsible for all phases of the business, embracing sales, internal management and purchasing. Manufacturers of corrugated boxes and displays This was a family owned and operated corporation which was sold in 1992

EDUCATION

N.Y.U. Stern School of Business
B.S. in accounting

Columbia University
Graduate Studies in Business Administration

EXTRACURRICULAR

Tournament Tennis (League Play)
Long-standing interest in the Arts
Adjunct Professor at Stern Graduate School of Business Administration
Taught graduate students how to run a competitive profitable business

Computer Literate MS Word, Internet